Testimonial for Elite Conversions

"What can I say" Dave Ferrier did a great job at presenting his material. Material of which was extremely important and obviously researched at some length. Having been the in-house training officer for A&R computers for 2 years, it was obvious to see that he has a lot of passion with what he does and thoroughly enjoys the process of presenting his material.

The material used is spot on, and he covered the crucial areas, the areas that really make or break a sale. Dave is also a lot more than just the front man of Elite Conversions, he is genuine and cares about the people he presents to. And I know that the first thing he wants to see is a positive result from his conference. Which A&R has most defiantly experienced, only days after his conference.

To finish, Dave Ferrier of Elite Conversions is the only man and company I would refer to you business organization for the professional presentation of sales material. If you want results, he is the man to provide them.

Once again, good work Dave. Hope to hear from you in the future.

Yours Sincerely
