Dear David,

Thanks for a great conference; it was both enjoyable and beneficial.

The one thing I took away from it was that David, who was just a knock about bloke from Adelaide, has made a success of himself mainly due to reading books and listening to tapes of successful people, and implementing the bits and pieces useful to him.

It finally hit home to me there is a common theme here, as it has been mentioned at nearly every seminar/conference I have attended over the years, but haven't done anything about it. So now I have two books on hold for me at Marion Library and I am going over to Dymocks today to purchase I heard discussed on Radio yesterday.

The point being, that David has got me motivated in this direction through his pragmatic presentation, where other seminars/conferences have not had an impact, I also found his body language segment very interesting, and something to be aware of in future.

Yours faithfully,
